Student Learning and Engagement

Students are actively engaged in learning at the Bellevue Community School District, and their engagement, involvement, and application of their learning is critical for them as learners. From making 3D designs in Kindergarten (right), to arranging 3D fractions on a number line in order from least to greatest (to right and down), to students engaged at their work-based learning sites at K9 Komfort, the Iowa DNR Station in Green Island, and Bellevue Elementary (to only highlight a few this week), and the Spring play cast for "Superheroes" (all below)

Additionally, students are engaged in assisting each other in their learning, as exemplified by Mrs. Decker's 2nd grade class where students work with partners and read each other's papers and give positive feedback while checking for punctuation and spelling.
