Believe In The Blue! Believe In Bellevue!

Bellevue Elementary PAC Book Fair

The Bellevue Elementary once again hosted the Scholastic Book Fair for students and their families this week during the school day and during conferences. This is an important fundraiser for the parent organization, but also important for our students as they gather more excitement for reading. Thanks for the support of all families, and for our family volunteers.

Presentations to Students

Both buildings have a variety of presentations during the school year. One this week was a presentation to Business class students by Wade Bormann, local business owner in Bellevue (and the area), discussing the process of starting and growing their own business. Another involved middle school students participating in an active presentation by the National Theatre Company on "Mad About Money" in regard to various personal finance topics.

K9 Search

Each school year the district has multiple K9 searches for drugs in the school, and this week the Jackson and Jones County Sheriff's departments, along with the Bellevue PD, conducted a search of hallways, lockers, backpacks, and other areas. Student health and safety are our number one priority, and this assists in this priority for
